Self-Confessed Murderer Identifies Bombs, Re-
cites How He Made Them, And Gives Details.

THE SORDID STORY TOLD IN COURT

Haywood Trial Full Of Blood Curdling Details--Days Of The Molly McGuire's Of Pennsylvania Are Recalled By Old Timers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Boise, Idaho, June 6.—The Steunenberg murder trial opened at nine this morning, when Witness Orchard, the self-confessed murderer, resumed the witness stand.
Orchard told of ineffectual attempts, instigated, he said, by Pettibone and Haywood, to assassinate Frank Bradley in California. Judge Gabbert, Governor Peabody, Frank Hearne of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, David Moffatt, president of the First National bank of Denver, and Judge Goddard.
A bomb was buried by Orchard at Canon City for the purpose of killing former Governor Peabody, the same bomb being produced in court and identified by Orchard. The witness said he had shown the casing to Pettibone in Denver and loaded it in the basement of Pettibone's store, the latter assisting him. Thirty pounds of giant powder was used.
Orchard next related how he and Pettibone had manufactured a bomb to kill Judge Gabbert. Orchard placed the bomb in the street with a pocketbook attached to a wire, so when the purse was picked up an explosion would follow.
Judge Gabbert passed without noticing it. A man named Wally grabbed the pocketbook and was killed.
Orchard testified that Haywood first suggested he come to Idaho to assassinate Frank Steunenberg. He said the conference was at the office of the Western Federation of Miners in Denver in 1905. Moyer protested against further act of violence in Denver and urged certain "outside work" be taken up.

REFORM HITS TOWN; MANY ARE UNHAPPY

Edgerton Blue Law Dug Up and Now
Enforced to the Very Letter.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Edgerton, June 6.—No one knows how badly it feels to have all card games shut down, all screens removed from the bar rooms and all side doors locked to the public until it is tried on them. Edgerton is in the hands of the reformers and the enforcement of the old law that has been on the ordinance book for so long it had been forgotten, has caused more than a mild sensation in the city. The law went into effect good and plenty and persons who sought the back door or game of seven-up in a bar room, or sneak behind a protecting screen for a nip, all met with disappointment. The town is being run on a strictly moral basis and it is not kept so it will be no fault of the reformers.

Music Teachers' Convention
St. Paul, Minn., June 6.—Music teachers from every quarter of the state are in St. Paul attending the sixth annual convention of the Minnesota State Music Teachers' association, which began a three days' session today. A number of concerts and recitals will be given during the convention. The program has been arranged with the greatest care and the music will be of the highest order. Another important feature of the gathering is the round-table discussions in the different departments, affording opportunity for the comparison of different systems and methods. The attendance is larger than at any of the previous conventions of the association.

Addresses by Noted Men
Grand Forks, N. D., June 6.—Following the close of a two days' session of the grand lodge, the North Dakota Grand Encampment of the I. O. O. F. began its annual session in Grand Forks today. The business before the grand lodge consists of the election of officers, the confirming of charters granted during the past year, the approval of the reports of the grand officers, and the election of a representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge meeting to be held in St. Paul in September.

Addresses by Noted Men
Memphis, Tenn., June 6.—An attractive program was carried out at the sessions of this, the third day of the joint annual meeting of the state bar associations of Arkansas and Tennessee. The feature of the morning session was an address by Hon. Hannis Taylor, former minister to Spain, on "The Growing Importance of the Fourteenth Amendment."

Sinn Fein Society (to John Bull)—You may get a tap with this shillalah on your head, bedad! "The Sinn Fein" Society of Ireland is organizing an extensive boycott against England.—News Item.

MARRIED SEVENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Independence, Missouri, Couple, Married at Ages of Twenty and Eighteen, Are Celebrating.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Independence, Mo., June 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Green Bedford of this city today celebrated the seventieth anniversary of their wedding. They were married June 6, 1837, in Harrison county, Kentucky, and in 1866 moved to this state, where they have since resided. Mr. Bedford is now past 90, while his wife is two years his junior. Both are the last of a family of 14 children. The couple has seven children, 16 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

SHEEPSKINS FOR AMERICAN MIDDIES

Seventy-four Graduated from Annapolis Naval Academy—June Ball This Evening.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Annapolis, Md., June 6.—Seventy-four midshipmen, comprising the third section of the first class, received their diplomas today at the graduation exercises at the United States Naval Academy. The large crowd of visitors assembled from every part of the country afforded good evidence of the great interest which the navy inspires. Secretary of the Navy McCall delivered the address to the graduates. "Tonight the program of the week will be crowned with the customary ball given in honor of the graduating class. The armory where the ball is held has been beautifully decorated with bunting and flags. The colors are crimson for the graduating class, blue and gold for the academy. Tomorrow the members of the first and third classes at the academy will embark upon the cruiser Olympia and the monitors Arkansas, Nevada and Florida, for the summer cruise, and on Saturday the fleet will leave Hampton Roads.

WISCONSIN'S TWIN CITIES WILL UNITE

Neenah and Menasha Believe Consolidation Would Result in Benefits to Both Municipalities.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Menasha, Wis., June 6.—The agitation for consolidating the twin cities—Neenah and Menasha—has taken new root, and as both cities are generally in favor of this move, active steps will be taken soon. "Such a consummation," says the Neenah Daily Times, "would do more than all other efforts combined to bring trade to the 'new' city and to make this one important instead of two comparatively insignificant cities."

North Dakota I. O. O. F.
Grand Forks, N. D., June 6.—Following the close of a two days' session of the grand lodge, the North Dakota Grand Encampment of the I. O. O. F. began its annual session in Grand Forks today. The business before the grand lodge consists of the election of officers, the confirming of charters granted during the past year, the approval of the reports of the grand officers, and the election of a representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge meeting to be held in St. Paul in September.

LONGEST ONE-DAY TOURING CAR RACE

Two-hundred-mile Endurance Contest Being Run Today Between New York and Albany.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, June 6.—A large number of automobiles, representing all the leading makes, started this morning on the 200-mile endurance test arranged by the New York Motor club. The objective point is Albany, by way of Pittsfield, making the longest automobile run ever held in the nature of a competition for a single day. From this city the route passes northward through Yonkers, Tarrytown, Peekskill, and Fishkill to Poughkeepsie. Here the route leaves the Hudson river and, entering the Berkshire hills, passes through Salisbury and Great Barrington to Lenox. From Lenox the route continues to Pittsfield, and then turns eastward to Chatham, from which point it continues almost due north to Albany. The route offers good roads, and there is enough hilly country to make it a desirable test for an endurance run.

THREE CONVENTIONS MEET IN DETROIT

State Sessions of Municipal League, Health Officers and Library Association.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Detroit, Mich., June 6.—Detroit is entertaining the annual conventions of three important state bodies, the League of Michigan Municipalities, the Association of Michigan Health Officers, and the Michigan Library Association. A joint session has been arranged for this evening, with a number of speakers of prominence to be heard.

EGG WITHIN AN EGG THE LATEST FREAK

Wife of Jefferson County Fair Marshal Discoverer of Double Hen Fruit.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Jefferson, Wis., June 6.—Jefferson has quite a reputation for freaks of nature, but the latest is some hen fruit that is a real curiosity. Mrs. J. H. Winterling, wife of the marshal of the Jefferson county fair, has an egg that upon being opened disclosed another perfect egg inside. The egg was of not more than ordinary size, and the inside egg was about the size of a dove's egg.

TEMPERANCE TALKER DIES AT HER HOME

Drops Dead This Morning After Long Life of Work in the Cause of Cold Water Doctrine.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
La Fayette, Ind., June 6.—Helen M. Gougar, the well known temperance leader and lecturer, dropped dead at her home this morning of heart failure. She was seventy years old.

NATIONAL LIBERAL PARTY CONVENTION

English Political Organizations Discussing Future Policy—Prime Minister Speaks.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, June 6.—Important addresses and discussions dealing with the future policy of the Liberal party in regard to important parliamentary measures are expected at the annual convention of the National Liberal Federation, which opened today at Plymouth. The convention will continue over tomorrow and will close in the evening with a public meeting at which Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the prime minister, will be the chief speaker.

LONG TRIP FOR NEW SHANGHAI CONSUL

Charles Denby Will Cross Atlantic and Then Proceed Over Trans-Siberian Railway.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, June 6.—Among the passengers booked to sail on the steamship New York today is Charles Denby, the new United States consul-general at Shanghai, China. After leaving his family at Hamburg Mr. Denby will proceed by way of the trans-Siberian railway to his post in China, where he will arrive about August 1.

PENNSYLVANIA TO BACK SENATOR KNOX

Republican Convention Endorsed Favorite Son as Out-and-out Roosevelt Man.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Harrisburg, Pa., June 6.—Delegates representing the republicans of Pennsylvania assembled in state convention in the Lyceum theatre this morning and were called to order by State Chairman Andrews. After the opening speeches, followed by the work of organization and the appointment of the necessary committees, a recess was taken to permit the committees to do their work. There is but one nomination to be made by the convention, that of a candidate for state treasurer. Among those who are prominently named for the nomination are State Senator Henry H. Cummings of Warren county, Representative John O. Sheatz of Philadelphia, Crier Hersh of York, John K. Tenner of Charleroi, and State Senator John S. Fisher of Indiana. As was expected, the convention gave a favorite-son endorsement to Senator Knox for the republican nomination. Senator Knox, it is understood, has given his consent to such an endorsement, provided it is made clear to the country that he is endorsed as an out-and-out Roosevelt man.

UNIVERSITY SUMMER SCHOOL

Lawrence, Kas., June 6.—The fifth summer session of the University of Kansas opened today and will continue until July 17. The session opens with an unusually large attendance. The course of instruction has been arranged especially with a view to meeting the requirements of city and county superintendents, principals and teachers, university students, and students preparing to enter the university.

ROYAL COUPLE HONORING THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

King Oscar And Queen Sophia Have Enjoyed
Fifty Years Of Happy Wedded
Life.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Stockholm, June 6.—This was a gala day in Stockholm and for that matter all over Sweden, for it was the golden anniversary of King Oscar and Queen Sophia.

All day the city was en fete and everywhere was rendered manifest the devotion which the Swedish people, especially the middle class and poor, have for the most democratic royal couple in Europe.

At the palace King Oscar, who was attended by all the members of the royal family, received a large number of addresses, including one from the municipality and one from nearly every public body in his kingdom. Special representatives of nearly every sovereign of Europe were also on hand to present messages of congratulation. Though not entirely recovered from his recent severe illness, his Majesty was in the best of spirits and warmly greeted each delegation presented to him.

Because of the health of the royal couple some of the early plans for the celebration of their golden wedding were necessarily abandoned. One of the notable features of the celebration that was carried out was a public collection to enable poor patients to gain admission to the sanatoriums for consumptives, which were founded ten years ago on the twenty-fifth anniversary of King Oscar's reign with the money subscribed by the nation and handed over to the king.

An Accomplished Monarch
All things taken into consideration, King Oscar is the most accomplished king in the world. He is an excellent musician, he has been a great traveler, he is a doctor of philosophy, he is a popular poet and a splendid speaker. He has the reputation also of being a wit. And he has found time to distinguish himself in all these ways in spite of the fact that he has had, as a king, one of the most difficult tasks that has fallen to the lot of any monarch of recent years. The king is most fortunate in his heir-apparent, Crown Prince Gustav, who has acted as regent of the kingdom during the long illness of King Oscar. He is a sensible man, devoted to his father, and on the best terms with Swedish statesmen and public men in every rank of life, and in recent years he has greatly increased in popularity with the masses in Sweden.

A Democratic Queen
Queen Sophia is a woman of whom the public outside of her kingdom hears little, but of whom it would do it good to hear much. She is German born, but by her sympathies and interests she belongs entirely to the northern country, whose crown she wears. She has not been strong in health for years, and consequently she has been compelled to live a comparatively retired life. She can not often share in the great court festivals. Her interests are to a great extent taken up by charitable work. One of her most cherished occupations is to alleviate distress, and being strongly impressed by religion, the queen is greatly interested by the religious movements of her time.

More than one charitable institution has been founded through the initiative of the queen, above all the "Sofiahemmet," or Sophia House, in Stockholm. She has on many occasions started the idea of important works of charity—for instance, when she formed and carried out the plan of the great fancy fair in Christiania for the benefit of the families of the wrecked fishermen from Finnmarken.

A Happy Pair
The marriage of King Oscar, then prince, to Princess Sophia, of the house of Nassau took place at Biebrich castle, Germany, on June 6, 1857, and was a great public event. It was a love match and how happy they have been together during the fifty years of their wedded life can be learned from King Oscar's verses. The king writes excellent poetry, and in one of his poems, in which he describes his first meeting with his wife, he speaks of her as an "angel, pure and good."

Four sons, models of intelligence and manly beauty, have been born to them. They are Crown Prince Gustav, Prince Carl, Prince Eugen and Prince Oscar. None of these stalwart young men is less than six feet in height and all of them are broad-shouldered and athletic. The king himself stands six feet three inches and Prince Carl towers above all the rest of the family, his height being fully six feet six inches.

Prince Carl is called "the blue prince" as he nearly always appears in his blue cavalry uniform. Prince Eugen, the youngest son, is the artist of the family, and his father's special favorite. The other sons possess qualities that have made them widely popular and generally beloved, and altogether King Oscar and Queen Sophia have reason to be more than proud of their progeny.

GOES TO VISIT THE MAHATMA OF INDIA

Professor L. O. Bowen Starts Today For New York For A Week's Stay With Wonderful Man.

Professor L. O. Bowen of 51 Cherry street, leaves today for New York city where he will spend a week with the Mahatma of India, the greatest metaphysician of the world. The Mahatma is the supreme Justice of the Court of India and is in New York for a short stay. Professor Bowen had arranged to go to India to study under his direction when he arrived in this country and through a series of correspondence and as a great personal favor he is allowed to visit him in New York and spend one week in his presence. William E. Curtis recently interviewed him and pronounced him the greatest of all metaphysicians. Professor Bowen will study his teaching of philosophy and expects to return in two weeks to Janesville. The Mahatma is the strongest man in the world and the experiments he has subjected himself to in New York have created a world wide interest.

SIXTEEN BEAUTIES WERE IN JANESVILLE

Several Stepped Onto the Platform to See What City Was Like as They Passed Through.

When the St. Paul limited drew into Janesville last night shortly after nine, the few male stragglers on the Northwestern platform were given the shock of their lives. They were the habitual rubberers of the city who meet all the through trains to inspect visitors and look into the day windows. Instead of rubbering they were given a gaudy, colorful fire-dynamite inspection. Sixteen damsels who hail from the state of Oregon and had stepped from the train for a breath of air while the diner was being switched off. Sixteen beauties came to them. One of the loungers, "Gee Whiz" a second murmured as he straightened his tie. "Some opera troupe," and then the "Beauties" inspected the loungers. The result was evidently not pleasing and the loungers slunk away in the darkness to view from a distance, the smiling sixteen. Even Dining car Conductor Harry McClure slipped off his car into the darkness instead of walking up the platform and the baggage smasher forgot to smash and looked with admiration. The sixteen are the sixteen most beautiful women in Oregon. As the result of a beauty contest carried on by a western paper they are on their way home from a trip to the Jamestown Expo, New York and Chicago and this morning in St. Paul were met by Governor Johnson who took them to the Stock Exchange where all trading stopped until they left. Their stay in Janesville was brief but it is safe to say no greater sensation has been caused by the arrival of any party that was experienced in the few moments they took their "Constitutional on the platform waiting for their train to start.

NOTABLE WEDDINGS IN SOUTH CLINTON

Two Ceremonies at Bergen Church—Clinton K. of P. Ball Team Will Meet Fairbanks-Morse Nine of Beloit.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Clinton, Wis., June 5.—Two notable weddings have just taken place in South Clinton. Yesterday afternoon occurred the wedding of Olaf Sandell of Beloit and Miss Olive Arneson. The happy event was solemnized at the pretty Norwegian Lutheran church at Bergen and later a reception was held for the bride and groom at the home of the bride's parents. This afternoon at the same church Mr. Oscar Stennesson and Emma Duxstad were united in marriage which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. K. B. Duxstad. The contracting parties in both events are children of very widely known families in this community and now stand higher in the estimation of the district. The parents came here in an early day and settling in beautiful Jefferson Prairie have carved out for themselves names and fortunes to be envied.

The first ball game of the season will be played by the K. of P. team and the Fairbanks-Morse team of Beloit at Clinton Gates Park, June 8. Our boys have elegant new uniforms and have a good strong team of purely local players and expect to put up a good game.

ARTICLES LOST AT SEA.

Hats and Other Wearing Apparel Perquisites for Neptune.

Did you ever speculate on what becomes of the hats and other articles of wearing apparel that find their way into the sea from the steamers that are constantly plying back and forth? Hardly a ship steams from one port to another without somebody's hat or box or shawl blowing overboard. Thousands of them have been lost that way and scarcely a single one has been recovered. They are dashed to bits by the waves, blown to shreds and otherwise destroyed.

But once in a blue moon a hat does come back to land, as in the case not long ago when a large fish was caught. In cleaning it a woman's hat, almost intact, was found in the stomach of the denizen of the deep. There is reason to believe that this bit of feminine wearing apparel had not lodged very long in its curious resting place, for even a fish is not proof against indigestion or its equivalent when it comes to eating straw braid, feathers and flowers. This hat has been preserved as a specimen of considerable interest on account of its unique travels. Of course if the fair owner ever makes a claim on it and can identify her property it will be returned to her.

Millions in Line of Shipping.

There is about $100,000,000 invested in transatlantic passenger boats steaming from New York bay.

What Chance Had He?

A Buffalo physician tells of two young friends in that city who entered simultaneously upon their respective careers of physician and lawyer. Late one afternoon the newly made medic dashed into the room of his legal friend, exclaiming: "Great luck, old man! Congratulate me! Got a patient at last! On my way to see him now!" Whereupon the legal light-to-be clapped his friend on the back, saying: "Delighted, old chap!" Then, after a slight pause, he added, with a sly grin: "Say, let me go with you! Perhaps he hasn't made his will!"—Harper's Weekly.

What Makes the Sky Blue.

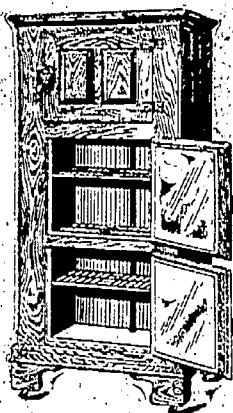

It is the atmosphere that makes the sky look blue and the moon yellow. If we could ascend to an elevation of 50 miles above the earth's surface, we should see that the moon is a brilliant white, while the sky would be black, with the stars, shining as brightly in the daytime as at night. Furthermore, as a most picturesque feature of the spectacle, we should take notice that some of the stars are red, others blue, yet others violet, and still others green in color. Of course, all of the stars (if we bar the planets of our own system) are burning suns and the hues they wear depend upon their temperature.—Reader.

TURNED OUT BY NATURE.

Many Things of Use That the Old Dame Manufactures.

Nature is something of a manufacturer herself. In the case of a certain cactus marvelous natural pottery is produced. Woodpeckers excavate nests in the trunk and branches, and to protect itself the plant exudes a sticky juice, which hardens, forming a woody lining to the holes made by the birds. Eventually the cactus dies and withers away, but the wooden bowls remain. As a weaver nature also produces fine work. Certain tree barks and leaves furnish excellent cloth, as, for instance, the famous tapa cloth used in the South sea islands. Nature is a glass-maker, too. By discharging her lightning into beds of quartz sand she forms exquisite little pipes of glass. She makes valuable ropes of various kinds in the shape of tropical vines and creepers, and she is even a lace-maker, as witness the lace tree of the West Indies.—Indian Review.

SAYS HE MURDERED WOMAN.

George Kadelbach Writes Letter Confessing Minnesota Crime.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 6.—George Kadelbach, brother-in-law of Mrs. Catherine McCart, has made what purports to be a written confession of the killing of Mrs. McCart, who was found dead in a well, to his brother-in-law, Henry Clasen, mailing the letter at Delano. In this letter he said he was contemplating suicide. Poses are searching in the vicinity of the village of Long Lake, but no trace of the man has been found. In this remarkable letter Kadelbach claims Mrs. McCart begged him to kill her and kill himself, and that he was on his road to hell. The police believe the confession is a ruse to throw them off the track.

Ship Blown Up; Scores Perish.

Tunis, June 6.—A Turkish sailing vessel, laden with contraband ammunition and bound for Tripoli, has been blown up in the vicinity of Port Zazza. Her entire crew, as well as 50 fishermen who were alongside at the time, were drowned. It is believed the captain fired his vessel to avoid capture.

Colonial Dames at Jamestown.

Norfolk, Va., June 6.—The National Society of the Colonial Dames of North America convened at the Jamestown exposition Wednesday with 350 delegates in attendance. The opening address was made by Mrs. Overton Lea, of Nashville, Tenn.

Pin Prick Causes Death.

St. Louis, June 6.—Blood poisoning caused by a prick of a brass pin resulted in the death Wednesday night of Augustus C. Halsey, who came here from New York in 1901 and engaged in the automobile business.

Grandson of U. S. Grant Marries.

Washington, Pa., June 6.—Miss Helen Dent (Wrenshall, of this city, and Chaffee Grant, of San Diego, Cal., grandson of Gen. U. S. Grant, were married here Wednesday night at the home of the bride's mother.

Ice House at Omaha Burns.

Omaha, Neb., June 6.—The big ice house of the Swift Packing company at Fourteenth and Manderson streets, containing 8,000 tons of ice, was destroyed by fire late Wednesday night. The loss is about $75,000.

ATTACKS TWO-CENT FARE LAW.

Philadelphia & Reading Files Bill Against Pennsylvania Statute.

Philadelphia, June 6.—The Philadelphia & Reading Railway company Wednesday filed a bill in equity in common pleas court here attacking the constitutionality of the two-cent fare law enacted by the recent legislature. Other railroads in this state are expected to take similar action.

Lincoln, Neb., June 6.—John N. Baldwin, general solicitor of the Union Pacific, Wednesday presented to the Nebraska state railway commission a written notice and protest to the effect that the Union Pacific at the proper time and in the proper form will contest the two-cent law on the ground of being confiscatory; the Rock Island also filed a similar notice and protest. It is generally understood that the Burlington and other railroads will join in the attack on the law.

PUTS ARSENIC IN THEIR PIES.

Housekeeper's Mistake Causes Death and Illness in Pennsylvania Town.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 6.—One man is dead, a child will die and several other children are in a serious condition at the farm of John Montgomery, Trucksville, as a result of eating pie containing arsenic.

The housekeeper, a Mrs. Kelly, mistook arsenic for baking powder, and placed a quantity in the pies she was baking. The entire Montgomery family, the hired help and some visitors to the house partook of the pastry and all became very ill. Joseph Brown, a hired man, died. Mrs. Kelly's two children and three other children who were visiting the farm ate freely of the pie. One of the Kelly children cannot recover, while the others are in a serious condition.

Julia Magruder Dying. Richmond, Va., June 6.—Miss Julia Magruder, the novelist, had a slight rally Wednesday, but later her condition was pronounced hopeless and she may die at any moment. Miss Magruder has a disease of the heart.

FAITH IN HER NINE LIVES.

Cat Took Chances in Flying Leap from Burning Building.

During a fire in the tenement house at 124 West One Hundred and Second street the other day, a large black cat, with shiny yellow eyes, appeared on a window sill of the fifth story. Behind it a dull red glow and an occasional puff of smoke gave warning that the flames were rapidly approaching. Puss understood, and after a short walk on the sill, launched herself into space. The flight through the air was like that of a squirrel, the poise being perfect and the legs spread out as widely as possible. The cat descended in a long, graceful curve, and when she struck the pavement the feet were quickly bunched together and there was no "dull thud." For a single instant the cat paused, as if to recover from the shock, and then, with a long-drawn meow and every hair on end, dashed along the street and disappeared in the darkness.—N. Y. Sun.

Concrete for Water Pipes.

Pipes made of reinforced concrete for transmitting water under pressure have been constructed. These pipes are really one continuous tube, each several hundred feet long. In diameter they are from two feet to three feet; the longest single section being 600 feet. The inside is made smooth, planned timber being used in the forms.

BOSS IN HIS OWN COURT.

Montana Judge Refused to Listen to Point of Law.

At one time, the supreme court issued a supervisory writ directing Judge Clancy, of Montana, to make a certain order in a case, either granting or refusing a right to amalgamate, so that the matter might be finally determined in the higher tribunal. When this was brought to the judge's attention, he announced that he would take the matter under advisement. The judge had taken other matters under advisement and they had never been heard of afterwards; it was one way of allowing him ample time to extract valuable ore-bodies from the disputed ground. Under the decision of the supreme court, we are entitled to an immediate order, said L. O. Evans, the Amalgamated attorney, who presented the matter in court. "Well, I'm not going to give it to you," came back the reply from the bench. "Our only recourse will be another appeal to the supreme court," said Mr. Evans. "You can go to the supreme court, or anywhere else you please," said the judge. "This court can be punished for contempt." "Go away, go away," shouted the judge, waving his long arms belligerently toward the lawyer. "You talk like a town-fool I used to know back in Missouri. Bailiff, adjourn court."—McClure's Magazine.

THE FIRST CURTAIN CALL.

Voltaire One to Whom Original Honor Was Paid.

At the first performance in Berlin of Gerhart Hauptmann's "Jungfrau von Bischeberg" the author was repeatedly called before the curtain, and the incident caused inquiry as to when and where the practice of honoring an author in that way originated. The Berliner Tageblatt gives this answer: "The first call took place on the evening of February 26, 1743. On that memorable evening Voltaire's 'Merope' was performed for the first time in Paris. The author was known to the Paris public, but nothing that they had seen of him had pleased them so much as 'Merope,' and the enthusiasm found expression in noisy demands to see the author. In a letter Voltaire says this of the incident: 'They dragged me out and led me by force to the box occupied by the Duchesse de Villars and her daughter-in-law. The whole theater seemed to have gone mad—all shouted to the duchesse to kiss me. The noise became so great that the lady finally obeyed. So I was like Alain Chartier, publicly kissed, but he was asleep, while I was wide awake.' Now authors answer similar calls by appearing before the curtain. They gain insofar that they can be seen better by their audience, but they must dispense with the duchess' kiss—at least in public."

COMBINATIONS

H. H. Rogers, in an interview in Paris, expresses considerable amusement because of the fact that the President has advised the farmers to combine, although "He has been very zealous in endeavoring to prevent other people from combining."

This would be amusing indeed if it were not for the fact that President Roosevelt has repeatedly expressed his belief in the economic value of combination of capital and has gone so far as to urge congress to amend the interstate commerce act so as to permit of reasonable combinations subject to the approval of government boards. He has been very zealous, however, in proceeding against combinations that have violated law.

WHITEHEAD'S VICTORY

Senator Whitehead scored a victory yesterday when he spoke against the calling of a constitutional convention to redraft the present state constitution. One of the mistakes of the early lawmakers was that they made their constitutions similar to those of other states instead of branching out on new lines. Sometimes a state outgrows its constitution, but not often, and Wisconsin is far from needing a new set of laws for fundamental purposes. Senator Whitehead was right and the Senate accepted his ideas and voted with him against the bill to submit the proposition to the people for consideration.

GENERAL UTILITY BILL

Up at Madison there is serious discussion over the general utility bill which promises to remedy all the evils of grasping private corporations who seek to control all the necessities of life. The measure is moderate in some respects and drastic in others. The independent telephone companies object to the clauses which refer to their business and other objections are heard from corporations that do not like to be dictated to. However, the measure will probably pass and be one of the star issues of the present campaign.

THAT BOOM

The boom has come. If everyone in Janesville wakes up to the realization of this fact it will be here to stay. New factories, new homes, new railroad yards, all mean an increase in the population and increased business for the city. Janesville is booming. Stop it, who can?

CLINTON HOME-COMING

Clinton promises to entertain its former residents in royal style at the Home-Coming scheduled for the first week in July. The little town has made all preparations for the celebration that is to remind former residents that it is still on the map. Among other things it is going to build a new jail. It may not be ready for the Home-Coming, probably will not be needed, but it shows signs of progress when a town needs a new lock-up.

Taft will be with us before you can turn around. Wisconsin should give him a warm welcome and see that he is given an endorsement at the national republican convention fitting his position. Taft is a great man in more ways than one and one whom the state can do well to honor with their vote for nomination for President.

Janesville has become interested in revivals and the attendance is increasing every night. The work is a good one and the people of Janesville can well afford to spare a few minutes each day to listen to men of such repute as are to be heard on the platform of the Scoville revival at the West Side Rink.

Now that Janesville has really begun to boom let everyone make ready their yards for public inspection. Strangers seeking business locations are liable to come here, and if the city shows a clean appearance it will impress them much.

Madison is placing itself on the map with a gigantic Home-Coming the 2d, 4th and 5th of July. Parades and all such to impress the populace that the Capital city is on the map.

La Follette and his party of hunters have returned with their bearskins and stories. Colorado has agreed with the Wisconsin Senator evident.

Some admirer of the President has sent him another building. His private secretary is not pleased with the gift.

The idea of a dog license and dog tax is worth considering. Think it over, city dads, and then vote for it.

Chicago is baseball crazy. If any other city should win the championship it would break their hearts.

Chicago is still purging the red-light district of all its evils. Soon the city will be like a Sunday School.

President Roosevelt is still talking against that third term but—

Play a Necessity of Life.

The gospel of play will, we are confident, win for itself a hearing as the gospel of wholesomeness and a fuller life. It will go far to create a better race of manly beings, a better social state and throw a new light on the petty of grime and "other worldliness." What we have said has been applied mainly to city life, to the overpacked and unnatural crowd; but it is applicable in a modified form to country life. The people who live among the trees and brooks do get, in spite of themselves, a certain relaxation, yet they need what they do not get—the useless sport, the utter relief for a portion of each day from "trying to make ends meet."—N. Y. Independent.

Duty Not Burdenome.

There seems to be a popular belief that the term duty comprises all that we most dislike to do; that if it is a duty it must be unpleasant. But look at your duties kindly and they will turn kindly faces to you. Don't worry over them, don't be angry with them, and they will smile at you in return and you will be happy with them. But be careful not to make an idol of duty, for idolatry is wrong. Idols are worshipped, but not understood.

B. P. S. Paint--

A "Painter's Paint."

B. P. S. Paint is a pure lead, zinc and linseed oil Paint. It is made upon a formula which has stood the test of years. It is ground exceedingly fine—much finer than hand-mixed Paint or ordinary prepared Paints. B. P. S. Paint is a "Painter's Paint," and is endorsed by all practical workmen who have thoroughly investigated what it is made of, how it is made, and what it will do.

Painters find B. P. S. Paint economical because pure materials and fine grinding enable them to cover 25 per cent more surface per gallon in 10 per cent less time, and secure a more beautiful and durable job than with hand-mixed or other prepared Paints.

B. P. S. Paint is a "Painter's Paint," because it means satisfied customers and increased business.

SYNOD ELECTED OFFICERS TODAY

PRESIDENT AND TREASURER SAME—REV. JOHN KEEHLEY SECRETARY.

FIVE MINISTERS RECEIVED

Much Routine Business Disposed of—Annual Synodical Sermon—Delivered Last Night.

Officers for the ensuing year were this morning elected by the English Evangelical Lutheran Synod of the Northwest in seventeenth annual convention at St. Peter's church here. Rev. A. J. Reichert of Red Wing, Minn., was chosen to succeed himself as president; Rev. John Keehley of Minneapolis, Minn., who has served as secretary for years, was made secretary in place of Rev. C. L. Warbler of St. Paul, Minn., who has been transferred to the Chicago synod; and Hon. Charles A. Smith of Minneapolis was re-elected treasurer.

Five New Ministers. By letter five new ministers were received into the synod this morning. They are Rev. C. W. Valentine of Lindstrom, Minn.; Rev. George H. Schuur of St. James' church at St. Paul, Minn.; Rev. R. W. Yeancy of Sioux Falls, S. D.; Rev. D. O. Yost of Cedarburg, Wis.; and Rev. O. Yorg of St. Mark's church at St. Paul, Minn.

One new church will also be made a member of the synod. It is the Cedarburg, Wis., society.

Reports of various committees were heard this morning and much routine business of minor importance transacted.

Beside the sixty lay and ministerial delegates present at today's session were Rev. A. C. Anda of Chicago, one of the western field secretaries, and Prof. M. Steward of Colburn Academy of Indiana.

Annual Synodical Sermon. Though the convention was not formally opened until this morning the general sessions began last evening. The church was well filled and no doubt the audiences at the remaining evening and afternoon sessions will be large.

Music was furnished by the local choir the "main service" was conducted by Rev. John Keehley of Minneapolis and the scripture lesson was read by Dr. Trabert of the same city. President Reichert delivered the annual synodical sermon. His topic was "The Age and the Church" and his text was 1 Corinthians 1:21—"For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe."

God: Not Intellect, Will Save. We live in a fallen world, said Dr. Reichert. Man by his own wisdom attempted to reach human perfection but failed and God came through Christ to help mankind. The history of the past ages shows what statesmen, philosophers, poets, legislators and courts of justice have accomplished but the greatest advancement has not been by use of the intellect, but by the spirit. Dr. Reichert then reviewed the glories of the present era, the victories of knowledge and science, and contrasted the bright side with our shame, sorrow and misery. He deplored the present tendency toward laxity and the depravity of the race—the prevalence of crime, the disregard for marital bonds and increase in suicides. In this portion of the address reference was made to the divorce of William Ellis Corey, God's knowledge will effect the renovation, elevation and salvation of the world.

Preaching of the Gospel. Preaching of the gospel, continued the speaker, is a distinctive feature of the dispensation of the Christian religion. In old testament days God sent prophets to teach the people, now the ministers act as instructors. Preaching is God's method of expounding and enforcing religious truths and no age has needed them as does the present and no age has been willing to receive them. Dr. Reichert concluded with a picture of the triumph which is in store for the church.

ALUMNI COMMITTEES PLANNING BANQUET

Arrangements for Event of Friday Evening, June 14, Now Being Made.

Committees to arrange for the annual banquet of the Janesville Alumni Association in honor of the graduating class have been appointed and are now at work. The supper is in charge of Miss Cora Severill, Miss Edna Atwood and Harry F. Jones; the work of decorating the tables has been entrusted to Miss Grace Spoon, Miss Catherine Crowley and Walter Carle; menu cards and programs are being printed under the direction of Harvey Bailey and George Caldwell, and the following will secure members of the present junior class to wait on table: Miss Lucy Granger, George Seannett and Miss Anna K. Smith. The program, which will consist of short talks, music and one reading is being planned by the officers. The banquet will be held in the auditorium of the high school building on the evening of Friday, June 14, and Treasurer Fred Palmer is now disposing of tickets.

RELIEF FOR FIVE POINTS IN SIGHT

City Council Will Probably Decide to Take Hold of the Sewer Construction Work on Own Hook.

"The City of Janesville, Dr. to Kate Richter—May 22—To damages to premises of lots 22, 23, and 24, Mitchell's fourth addition, caused by the accumulation and overflow of surface water by reason of insufficient, inadequate, and defective sewers and the stoppage and clogging thereof and by reason of the negligent and unlawful diversion of surface water to the said premises—$500." Another pleasant little bill of exchange, containing the above notification was filed with the city clerk this morning by the attorneys representing the owner of the Fountain House property at the intersection of Pleasant and Milwaukee streets.

The status of the much mooted Five Points drainage project is something like this: The two railroad companies agreed to a plan for the laying of the 42-inch storm sewer from the Five Points across the C. & N. W. tracks and then in a southwesterly direction between the right-of-ways of both the North-Western and St. Paul to the open ditch, at a conference between Supt. Wright, Engineer Brinsme, C. F. Lowth, superintendent of bridges and buildings, City Engineer C. V. Kerch and others on March 25. The sewer was to drain the area at the intersection of Pleasant, Madison, West Milwaukee streets, and Center avenue and the Milwaukee road offered to do the construction work. There was a long delay and then one of the officials wrote that there was such a congestion of work that it would be impossible to commence before fall.

City Engineer Kerch will recommend at the meeting of the city council next Monday evening that the work be turned over to the street assessment committee with instructions to advertise for bids and commence work at the earliest possible moment.

BOARD PLEASED BY REMODELING PLANS

Specifications from Which Cost of Rebuilding Jefferson School May Be Estimated Were Asked.

Architect Chandler's plans for remodeling the Jefferson school building in the third ward were presented to the board of education in special session last evening and seemed to please every member. The drawings are for a very pretty structure of Colonial architecture and call for alterations that would make the building ideal for school purposes. According to the plans the present walls and floors are to be left; the vestibules at the north and south ends are to be enlarged into two-story wings, containing a kindergarten room on the first floor and two-grade rooms on the second; the cloak rooms and halls are to be placed in the center of the building so that the grade rooms may be against the outside walls where light may be secured in plenty; the basement is to contain a steam heating plant, lavatories and possibly a playroom and the third floor is to be converted into an auditorium at a cost of thirty or forty dollars. This remodeling can be done for about half the cost of a new building, which would be in the neighborhood of $60,000, and the board asked the architect to furnish specifications from which an estimate could be made. These plans and estimates will be presented to the common council at their regular meeting two weeks from Monday night, such being the procedure by which the question of rebuilding is to be settled.

FOUR HUNDRED FROM HERE AT ROCKFORD

Janesville Sent Delegation to Annual Woodman Picnic—1,000 from Beloit.

More than four hundred Janesville people are at the annual Modern Woodman picnic of the Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin Association in Rockford today. But very few made the trip over the steam roads, the local camp having arranged no excursion. Nearly the entire delegation used the electric interurban line. The Boyer City contingent contained the Foresters' drill team and they, together with a number of members, participated in the usual parade this morning. Beloit sent fully one thousand people to the Forest city.

JANESVILLE PEOPLE TO ENJOY THE TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. George Brownell to Go on Michigan Press Association Outing.

Two former Janesville people, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Brownell, will leave Detroit June 14, upon the Michigan Press Association's annual vacation trip.

This year the members of the Association and their families will journey into the wilds of eastern Canada. They will be gone about ten days and in that time will travel through nearly three thousand miles of America's finest scenery. The trip will be made entirely by water. As a motto the members have already adopted that of "Water all the way," partly to indicate this exclusive avenue of transportation and partly to assure our Canadian neighbors of the strict temperance that will prevail among the party during the progress of the trip.

From Detroit the party, nearly one hundred, will go by one of the fast D. & B. boats, direct to Buffalo. Stopping for a view of Niagara Falls they will proceed down the Gorge to Lewiston, then across Lake Ontario to Toronto. At Toronto they will board one of the fine boats of the R. & O. Navigation Co., and will be carried by that line to Montreal and through the Thousand Islands to Quebec. At the mouth of Saguenay river, 112 miles east of Quebec, the boat will be turned northward, going up that stream nearly one hundred miles to Chicoutimi, the farthest point of navigation.

From here they will return over the same route, the trip having been so arranged that scenery passed during the night on the way will be viewed by daylight upon the return.

ARGUE MOTION FOR A CHANGE OF VENUE

Contestants in Winifred Fifield vs. Milwaukee Electric Co. Suit Will Be Heard Tuesday.

The matter relating to the Van Etta estate which was to have been taken up in circuit court today was settled by the contending parties. Office J. Arnold was granted a decree of divorce from Adam E. Arnold and a divorce action from Green county is to be taken up at five o'clock. Argument on the motion for a change of venue in the action of Winifred Fifield vs. the Milwaukee Electric Co. has been deferred until next Tuesday. Judge Grimm leaves for Jefferson tonight and will open the term in that county on Monday, expecting to finish the same on the day. He will return to Janesville Tuesday morning to take up whatever matters remain to be attended to here. All but two of the cases set for the June calendar have been disposed of.

WEDDING BELLS ON E. MILWAUKEE ST.

Our certificates of deposit, all of which draw interest at three per cent if the money is left six months, have many advantages. For the depositor. They are negotiable, you can cash them at any bank and collect the interest there. There is no notice of withdrawal required or reserved; they are payable on demand. They draw interest from the date of deposit, there is no waiting for July or January first in order to get the interest. As an additional inducement if the money is only with us four months we pay two per cent. All certificates of deposit issued by us since June first, 1906, draw interest if left the required period; it is not necessary to call for an interest-bearing certificate. We have paid interest to many depositors who did not know that their certificates drew interest. Certificates of deposit are our specialty; call and we can tell you more about them.

FEDERAL JUDGES ARE ACCUSED BY TUCKER

SECRETARY OF UNCLE SAM OIL COMPANY IS JAILED.

PUNISHED FOR CONTEMPT

Files Affidavit Charging That Three Magistrates Conspired with the Standard Oil Trust.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 6.—Judge W. C. Hook, of the United States circuit court, Wednesday sentenced H. H. Tucker, Jr., the indicted secretary of the Uncle Sam Oil company, to serve three months in the Leavenworth county jail for contempt of court, the contempt being a sensational affidavit filed by Tucker alleging a conspiracy between Federal Judges Pollock, McPherson and Phillips and the Standard Oil company to drive the Uncle Sam company out of business.

Judge Hook delivered a terrific arraignment of Attorney Albert L. Wilson, of Kansas City, who prepared the affidavit. He said the only purpose of filing the affidavit was to create a sensation in the papers and influence the public sentiment. Hook declared there was no precedent for such an affidavit and the clerk of the court was criticised for placing it on file. It was stricken from the files by order of Judge Hook.

Tucker commenced serving his sentence Wednesday night. The bankruptcy proceedings were continued until a judge can be found who can sit in the case. Judge Pollock will not preside.

Charges in Affidavit.

The affidavit alleged that Judges Pollock, Phillips and McPherson went on a fishing trip to Tampico, Mexico, on January 26, 1906, in the private car of Gardner Lathrop, head of the legal department of the Santa Fe, and strongly intimated that during the trip a conspiracy was entered into between the judges and the Standard Oil company, the claim being made that the Standard and the Santa Fe were controlled by the same persons. The affidavit further alleged that Pollock made a statement against Tucker and the Uncle Sam company out of court.

Prepared on Hearsay.

Tucker was on the stand two hours, and was subjected to a grueling examination by N. H. Loomis, general attorney of the Union Pacific, named by the court to conduct the examination. Tucker attempted to corroborate the charges in the affidavit, but became mixed and admitted the affidavit was prepared on hearsay.

The attorneys for the Uncle Sam Oil company asked the court to dismiss the bankruptcy proceedings, stating that Tucker should pay every outstanding debt in a few days. Judge Hook refused to dismiss the suit. Tucker will be taken from jail to testify. The present term of court will be continued until a judge can be secured. Judge Hook returned to St. Paul Wednesday night.

FORAKER IS REASSURED

WITNESS SAYS HE CAN SAFELY VISIT BROWNSVILLE.

Servant in Cowan Family Swears She Saw Negro Soldier Shoot at House.

Washington, June 6.—Senator Foraker was given assurance Wednesday that it would be safe for him to visit Brownsville, regardless of his efforts to prove that negro soldiers were not guilty of shooting up the town. At the conclusion of the testimony of Louis Cowan, of Brownsville, who was a witness before the senate committee on military affairs, Cowan said he had been quoted in special dispatches from St. Louis as saying that if Senator Foraker were to visit Brownsville he would be "tarred and feathered." Cowan denied that he had made any such remark.

"Then you think it would be perfectly safe for me to go there?" asked Senator Foraker.

"Oh, yes, sir," said Cowan.

"I greatly appreciate this assurance," said Mr. Foraker.

Bernard Kowalski testified that he attended a party at Cowan's house on the night of the shooting, and as he sat in a window facing the alley some negro soldiers passed. The witness said that one of the negroes remarked that the people in the house were having a good time, but they would not be in half an hour.

At the morning session Armado Martinez, a servant in the Cowan family, testified that she went to a window to close the shutters when the firing began and saw a negro soldier raise his gun and fire into the house.

BECKER WON'T GO ON STAGE.

Milwaukee Mayor Refuses Flattering Offer of Theatrical Managers.

Milwaukee, June 6.—Mayor Sherburne Becker, of this city, has decided to decline the offer of $1,000 a week to go on the stage. He will continue his duties as mayor of Milwaukee until the end of his term, he says. He was wined and dined at Chicago, representing Messrs. Brady & Grismer, saying that while he appreciated the flattering offer to play a title role, he must decline.

TRAIN WRECKED, 57 INJURED.

Serious Accident on the Southern Railway Near Lebanon, Tenn.

Nashville, Tenn., June 6.—Going at a speed of between 20 and 30 miles an hour, Southern railway passenger train No. 2, leaving Nashville at 10:30 a. m., plunged off a 15-foot embankment at Black Branch, near Lebanon, Tenn., and 33 miles east of Nashville, shortly after 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, injuring some 57 people. The injured nearly all are residents of Tennessee.

Lynching Narrowly Averted.

Highland, Ill., June 6.—While a mob of 100 men were gathered in front of the jail here Wednesday, threatening to lynch Louis Monken, 65 years of age, he was removed through a rear door by the police and taken by buggy to Edwardsville, where he was lodged in jail. Monken shot and killed Albert Britsch in a saloon in St. Morgan, Ill., Monday morning.

Chicagoan Is Honored.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 6.—W. M. R. French, director of the Chicago Institute of Fine Arts, was elected president of the American Association of Museums at a meeting held Wednesday night, after a lively contest between Mr. French and Dr. W. J. Holland, director of the Carnegie museum, Pittsburg.

Alleged Defaulter Arrested.

Seattle, Wash., June 6.—Phillip W. Kampfen, whose arrest was sought by officials of the Capitol National bank of St. Paul, for the alleged defalcation of $10,000, was arrested here Wednesday. Kampfen was paying teller of the bank.

Pierre, S. D., June 6.—The contract for the building of the new state capitol was let Wednesday to O. H. Olson, of Stillwater, Minn., for $528,552. The building is to be of granite and limestone.

Yes, It Would.

The average woman's respect for her husband would be greatly increased if she could hear the life insurance agents telling him how much money it would take to make good the loss to his family in case of his death.

SHORT ON REFEREES.

Australians Want Man Who Knows Boxing From Wrestling.

Jack Wren, the leading sporting man of Australia and backer of Bill Squires, in discussing the referee question in the antipodes the other day, said:

"We are as backward in the referee line as we are in boxers. No two of them can agree as to when a man should cease fighting. The clinch question, the interpretation to be put upon the clean break rule and other silly introductions to the game have been the means of retarding progress in boxing. I think it would pay sport promoters to import a good referee from America. We have none here capable of interpreting the Queensberry rules, and the sport is suffering in consequence."

"Our native referees' principal difficulty appears to be in defining a clinch, which is, as everybody knows, or should know, an unavoidable mixup or entanglement between the two men who are in heated contest and possibly fighting at short range. A hug to avoid a blow is often mistaken by our referees as a clinch, and the willing fighter, with both hands free, is prevented from punching the squib who is hanging on to him to avoid doing what he is paid for fighting. This has become so common here that a stranger would be puzzled to know whether our boxers were wrestling or fighting."

OUR JOCKEYS ABROAD.

Many American Boys Again Sign With European Stables.

The annual exodus of American jockeys to Europe every year is another evidence of the superiority of Yankee horse pilots over those of other lands. The wealthy horse-owners of practically every European nation want American riders and will pay almost any price, whether reasonable or unreasonable, for them.

This year an unusual number of our boys have signed contracts to ride abroad. Of course Danny Maher is not satisfied with what Uncle Sam provides in the way of "classy" mounts, and he heads the list of lads that will spend the summer abroad. L. Lyne, Skeets Martin, Willie Shaw, Turner, the Spencer boys and Willie O'Connor are other great riders that will do likewise. Jockey Martin will be likewise.

Mack Fears Pitchers.

Connie Mack, the farseeing manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, is afraid that he has a weak pitching staff. In an interview Connie admitted as much. "Connie's fears are grounded on the fact that his pitchers are not showing a gait sufficiently fast to suit him. He says that in baseball as played nowadays there can be no such thing as a let-up. The teams have to keep on their nerve all the time, he says, for games cannot be won in an inning, and the players let lay off and rest. He hopes his pitchers will show their proper gait in the immediate future, for he says the players on the other teams are all coming fast."

According to Charley Barrott, the Williams college trainer, Mack is anxious to secure Captain Ford, the Williams twirler, for his staff. Bennett says that Ford has no intention of playing professional ball, and if he did he would go with McAleer's St. Louis team, as he is a very close friend of the St. Louis manager.

TRAPPING OF WILD ANIMALS.

Jungle Creatures Have No Chance Against Ingenuity of Man.

"Elephants are easy trapped," said a zoo keeper. "Very easy trapped, very easy tamed. The trapper chooses a spot what is a popular elephant lair and here he digs a hole five feet deep and 20 foot square. He surrounds this hole with a high board fence, except in one place, where he hangs a swing gate. So far so good. Next he finds a herd of elephants, chooses the animal he wants, maddens it, and makes it chase him. Lickety-split, lickety-split. The man tears along on his nag, the elephant thunders closely after, and just at the gateway the man swerves to the right, but the elephant, too heavy to swerve, bangs right on through, kerthump, into the hole. He's mad at first, outrageous, terrible. But they give him no food nor drink, they build around the pit fires of damp wood that suffocate him nearly with the smoke, and they daze him with shouts and the banging of brass pans. That there wild elephant is completely broke and subdued in three or four days. He comes forth and follows the trapper humbly and timidly, with tears in his eyes. Monkeys is trapped—ain't it a shame?—with booze. You rush in among a flock of them, and they take to the trees, chatterin' and watchful. You pull out some bottles of strong, sweet booze, pretend to drink from them, then lay them down and go away. On your return an hour later the floor of the jungle is strewn with the limp, slim bodies of drunken monkeys. The only animal impossible to trap is the gorilla. Too strong and fierce."

Circumstantial Evidence.

Chick Bruce was a famous Adirondack guide, who accompanied former President Cleveland on one or two of his hunting trips in those mountains. Chick left Mr. Cleveland sitting on a log one morning while he went out to drive down a deer should he chance to find one. When he came back, he saw his distinguished employer still sitting on the log, but with the muzzle of his gun pointing directly at the presidential chest. "Here!" shouted Chick, "quit that, dad-gast-ye! Suppose that gun had gone off and had killed yourself, what would have happened to me? Darn! Ye, everybody knows I'm a Republican!"—Saturday Evening Post.

The Real Thing.

"That ain't the college yell the young feller is givin' now," explained the old inhabitant. "The old man is wearin' out a few hickories on him in the barn, an' what he's givin' us now is the home yell, with no Greek or Latin trimmin's."—Atlanta Constitution.

HURRY AND WORRY

THE TWO CHIEF CAUSES OF NERVOUS EXHAUSTION.

Avoid These, Says a Leading Physician, and You May Live Out Your Allotted Days and Do Your Life's Work Well.

Dr. Thomas C. Ely, of Philadelphia, in an article on neurasthenia in the Journal of the American Medical Association, says much stress on hurry and worry as leading causes of nervous exhaustion. He has this to say:

"Learn to hurry little and worry not at all. An illustration consists in the fatigue in the hurry to catch a train, which is out of all proportion to the physical effort expended. Individuals are too much like the modern telephone sign, 'always on duty.' For hurried and worried business or hurried and worried pleasure, hurry alone or worry alone are poisonous to the normal functions of the nerve system. But the American combination of worried hurry is deadly. Each brings into action the worst features of the other."

Of course every one who stops to think will agree with the author, but how few are able to follow his good advice? Worry is only the extra work, the increased wear and tear for which we are never paid. It always hinders but never wins. It means incapacity for anticipated efforts, and yet we constantly blame circumstances rather than our individual selves. The man who is always ready and takes time to be sure before he starts never needs hurry or worry. How few can do this consistently! Then comes the breakdown which is so often charged to mere overwork. In 99 cases in a hundred it is the worry, always useless, that eventually weakens and kills.

The gloomy foreboding not only saps the energy of all valiant endeavor to conquer difficulties, but cheats us in the end by proving the old adage, that "the expected never happens." If we compare notes we can easily prove the comforting truth of the saying. If the disconsolate man who for years feared the death of his invalid wife could have known she would survive him for more than a quarter of a century how much unnecessary mental suffering would have been spared him!

The absolute utility of worry is the lesson of it all. The future, as a rule, is more often a surprise and delight than a disappointment and discipline. We grieve when we look ahead and smile when we look back. But with most people experience counts for nothing when new obstacles appear. It is the old story that the last difficulty will be insurmountable. But each in his turn soon learns that he cannot control events, disturb the relations of cause and effect or alter the immutable laws of destiny, no matter how strongly he may yearn to do so. The only reasonable way to adjust matters is to wait until the time comes for the patience, good judgment and preparedness to meet the issues as they arise. We waste thought, strain nerve and banish sleep in anticipation of that which never transpires. "Don't shoot until they come out" combines lots of sound wisdom with no end of good philosophy. We not only worry in advance of the thing, but after it is done. If we calmly planned our escape and tried our best what more could have been done?

Mostly, also, we lack the courage,

A main difficulty is in striving to do too much and in overtaxing our capacities. The strong, steady, self-reliant man has no misgivings, but the weak one mistrusts every thing, himself included. He contrives against odds and worries and hurries, while others eat, sleep and are merry.

But this is going to be the way with the average nervous American. It was not in fact, who invented neurasthenia. The disease has become a habit with him, and worry, hurry, restlessness and irritability are its leading features. He takes his business home with him, eats with it, sleeps with it, dreams with it. It is his shadow at the fire-side and table. It blurs all his pleasures, stands between him and his family, all because he must borrow trouble and mortgage happiness, health and life in the balance.

The Best Nerve.

To sleep out of doors for a month is better than a trip to Europe. In this climate one must have a roof, of course, but any piazza that is open to serve as a bedroom; and the gain in happiness is unbelievable. With an abundant supply of good air the sleep soon grows normal, deep and untroubled and refreshing, so that we open our eyes upon the world as glad as a hunter or any pagan shepherd in the morning of the world. We grow anxious and flustered and hurried with distractions; the goblins of worry become an inseparable companion, and we groan in spirit that the universe is all awry, when in truth half a dozen deep breaths of clean air would lead a different complexion to all. Our anxieties are nearly all artificial, and are bred indoors, under the stifling oppression of walls and roofs and the maddening clangor of pavements, and a day in the open will often dispel them like a mist.—Bliss Carman, in American Craftsman.

Results Just as Bad.

The Beggar—Please, sir, will you kindly assist a poor man who has three wives to support?
The Pedestrian—Why, do you mean to say you are a bigamist?
The Beggar—O, no, sir. Two of them are the wives of my sons-in-law.—Stray Stories.

MUST KEEP OUT OF CAMPAIGNS.

Executive Order to Persons in Classified Civil Service.

Washington, June 6.—The rules of the civil service commission have been so amended as to prohibit all persons in the classified civil service from taking an active part in political campaigns. The amendment was made through an executive order issued by the president and is as follows: "Persons who, by the provisions of these rules are in the competitive classified service, while retaining the right to vote as they please and to express privately their opinions on all political subjects, shall take no active part in political management or in political campaigns."

CROKER WINS EPSOM, DERBY.

Captures British Classic With Orby, Ridden by Johnny Reiff.

London, June 6.—Richard Croker's unbeaten colt Orby, Irish bred, Irish trained, backed by thousands of sons of Erin in two hemispheres, Wednesday won the classic Epsom derby. Col. Baird's Wool Winder was second, and that other great Irish colt, Capt. Green's Sleave Gallion, prime favorite for the blue ribbon of the British turf, made a gallant race, but could finish no better than third. Croker's victory was not a popular one. His horse was ridden by Johnny Reiff, the American jockey.

ENDED THE CHILLING FEAST.

When the Negroes Saw the Policemen They Fairly Flew.

The other night two policemen were walking along Vine street when they met an old negro "grandma" coming out of a grocery store with her arms full of packages, says the Kansas City Star.

"Must be going to have a feast at your house," said one of the officers. "Going to have a chitlin' suppah tomorrow night," replied "grandma."

"Drap in an' get a bite."

The next night the two officers happened to be passing the house where the old negro "mammy" lived. Sounds of high revelry floated out on the night air.

"Let's go in and see what chitlins are," said one of the officers to the other. "I have heard of such edibles, but don't know what they are like."

"All right, I'll go you."

The officers knocked at the door. Instantly all became silent inside. Then the door was opened a crack. The negroes inside caught sight of the blue clothes and brass buttons.

"Good heavens," some one shouted, "it's the big law."

At once there was a wild scramble to get out. Some went out the back door, but most of them made a dive out the windows, taking sash, glass and all with them. When the officers got inside not a soul was there except the old negro "grandma," and she was laughing until the tears ran down her face.

"What's the matter with all your guests?" asked one of the policemen.

"Why, you all know them niggers believes they haint no justice in the law," she answered. "But I see mighty glad you come, cause my ole man haint done a tap o' work for a year. Been tellin' me 'bout his roomatiz an' a limpin' an' a groanin' aroun'—couldn't scarcely move. But he was the fust man out o' that window—just flew like a deah. Now he's got to go to work. He haint got no mo' roomatiz 'en a rabbit."

Big Rats of Wheeling.

The Pied Piper of Hamelin could reap a fortune were he to spend a day in this city, says a Wheeling (W. Va.) correspondent. Rats as large as good-sized cats are swarming in the mills of this city, and in several the workmen have threatened to walk out unless the invasion is checked.

Some of the tales are wonderful to relate. In one factory, according to well authenticated reports, a rat was seen to take a tin pail in one of its paws and trot away on the other three feet. Another deftly took the lid off a pail in order to get at the goodies he knew were inside. Another dragged a dinner basket by his tail, but was unable to get the basket down the rat hole, so he got behind a barrel to investigate his plunder. The workmen declare they cannot

LOOKING FOR FREE ADVICE.

People of Both Sexes Seek to Evade Payment of Doctors' Bills.

Every doctor has had unpleasant experiences of the economical minded person who takes advantage of a casual meeting at the dinner table or elsewhere to importune him for counsel as to his ailments. It is not always easy to get rid of these pests.

A French doctor recently rid himself in an equally ingenious manner of a patient who sought to impose on his good nature. He was accosted one afternoon on a crowded boulevard by a lady notorious for this practice. She at once began to tell of her afflictions, making particular complaint of pain in her hypogastric region. To which the doctor gravely replied: "My dear madam, I must examine you. Be good enough to take off your things!"

The reply was: "Take advice." A French doctor recently rid himself in an equally ingenious manner of a patient who sought to impose on his good nature. He was accosted one afternoon on a crowded boulevard by a lady notorious for this practice. She at once began to tell of her afflictions, making particular complaint of pain in her hypogastric region. To which the doctor gravely replied: "My dear madam, I must examine you. Be good enough to take off your things!"

A prominent business man of the place accosted Orville with the remark: "Say Orville, your horse seems to interfere some!" to which Orville promptly replied: "He ain't interfering with your business, is he?"

Orville's wit is keen and he always has an answer ready for any of his friends who attempted to chaff him.

One day Orville appeared driving a horse which interfered badly, and like its driver, had evidently seen better days.

A prominent business man of the place accosted Orville with the remark: "Say Orville, your horse seems to interfere some!" to which Orville promptly replied: "He ain't interfering with your business, is he?"

Rigors of Alpine Winter. The situation in Switzerland, owing to snowstorms, is much worse than is revealed by the scant telegrams leaving the country. The state of things has rarely been so bad at this time of year.

The uplands already lie two yards deep under snow, and the mountain villages of Simplan and other villages are absolutely cut off from the rest of the country. An attempt has been made in the legislature to induce the government to keep these passes open all the year, but the cost was declared to be prohibitory.

From Berne in the beginning of the week several diligences were long overdue, and their arrival was awaited with anxiety. A number of peasants who had gone with cattle from the valleys to the uplands had also been caught, and were quite unable to descend, while efforts to reach them involved much danger.

Why He Raged.

She rose from the great, soft snow heap. "Don't make a scene, dear," she expostulated. "But her husband continued to abuse the driver of the sleigh."

"But I am not really hurt," she whispered.

"No, matter," he returned, "the fellow was almighty careless. A little more and he'd have run me down, too!"

Sugar Used by Gothamites.

There are consumed by the people of New York city 1,008,700 pounds of sugar each day.

ANIMALS FIGHT IN SHACK.

Connecticut Man and His Watchdog Had Lively Session.

From Bristol's woods, in Southern Prospect, a village near Waterbury, Conn., a wildcat pursued a big deer until from exhaustion it fell through the roof of the side hill hen shack of Edson Black. Guinea fowls set up a great commotion, and with the deer's desperate struggles for liberty, cooped up in a shack 15x12, with nearly 80 fowls, there was such a racket that a trusty watchdog awoke. Black. He went to the henhouse to find 32 fowls trampled to death, every pane of glass and all the roosts broken and the deer dying of a broken neck. Its flanks were lacerated from the claws of the wildcat, tracks of which were in the coop, where it remained until frightened away by the approach of Black.

Excludes Draughts.

Fresh-air cranks, who believe in having an abundance of fresh air during the sleeping hours, will find the ventilating canopy of interest. The problem of properly ventilating a room to allow the admission of all the fresh air possible is often hard to solve, as it is invariably impossible to prevent draughts, which naturally must be avoided. By the use of the ventilating canopy, the sleeper is perfectly safe from draughts. It being even possible to place the bed in front of the open window. The framework of the canopy is secured firmly to the head of the bed, the covering being placed over all portions but the front. The head and upper portion of the body are thus protected from all draughts, the fresh air, nevertheless, having full egress in front.

Superstitious.

A well known New Yorker, while dining at his club one evening recently, observed that his order of oysters on the shell was not complete, there being only 11 bivalves, instead of the dozen it was his custom to order, says Harper's Weekly. On reflecting that his waiter, an Irishman, was a newcomer, he decided to let the matter pass, but when on the next evening the same thing occurred, he became a trifle impatient. "See here!" he exclaimed, he to the waiter, "what do you mean by bringing me 11 oysters when I order 12? This is the second time that this thing has happened!" "Sure, sir," quietly responded the Celt, "I didn't think you would want to risk being 13 at table, sir."

British Joke.

Modern honorable gentlemen who wish to show their reading display it in the invention of such sesquipedalities as "Terminological inexactitude." The outsider fails to grasp the humor of it; it reminds him only of Chronobolothologos "immersed in cogitundity of cogitation."—London Saturday Review.

Lacemakers Will Not Leave Home.

"One reason that the imported laces will always hold good is that the Swiss workmen, who are most expert, will not live in this country," said D. E. Schwab. "While domestic manufacturers can do right well in copy they cannot turn out the fine finish."

The Swiss workmen live content on a small wage, and with their families and relatives about them they are happy. But in this country it is different; they don't stay long. The importation of these lace manufacturers has been tried often, but without success."

The Family Physician

The best medicines in the world cannot take the place of the family physician. Consult him early when taken ill. If the trouble is with your throat, bronchial tubes, or lungs, ask him about taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Do as he says. We have no secret. We publish J. C. Ayer & Co., the formula of all our preparations. Lowell, Mass.

As a soft answer turneth away wrath so a quick answer to a want ad. often turns away bad luck.

"They are the abstracts and brief chronicles of the time"—are the want ads.

Smoking in Parliament.

From a "Descriptive Catalogue of London Tokens," published in 1855, one learns that at one time smoking was practiced in the house of commons, for the author mentions a seventeenth century order that "no member do presume to smoke tobacco in the gallery or at the table of the house sitting as committee."

A VERY FINE CONTEST IS ALREADY ASSURED

Place Some Friend Of Yours In Nomination And Demonstrate The Value Of Fraternal Association.

THE PRIZES ARE WELL WORTH THE WHILE

Don't Forget More Prizes Are To Be Added Next Week—

Get Your Name In The First Published List.

Considerable interest is being displayed by lodge and society workers in the Daily Gazette's Contest as announced in our columns since last Tuesday. All indications point to the success of the venture, and while not many votes have been cast, the list of candidates already nominated, which will be published next Saturday, includes many well known members of the various organizations as well as some of the most popular persons from the small towns and country in the outlying districts. You can nominate and vote for your favorites by simply clipping the ballot from this issue, filling it out properly and sending it to the Daily Gazette office.

It is little to do, but your friends will appreciate it. Don't hold the coupons, vote them every day.

Every member of the many societies in the various districts should see to it that the most deserving worker in their organization has a chance for the valuable trips, diamonds, and solid gold watches, to be awarded to the winners of the contest.

The way to help them is to vote for them—vote early and often. Many subscribers paying the regular collector yesterday asked for their voting certificates, to which they are entitled when paying $1.00 or more, and are thus preparing themselves to support some friend when their names appear.

If you are interested in the contest either for yourself or for a friend and do not fully understand the contest plan, call up the contest manager, who will fully explain and render any and all assistance possible.

THE DISTRICTS.

Candidates compete only with those residing in their own district, but are privileged to secure support and work for votes in any district.

District No. 1—Includes all territory lying within the corporate limits of the city of Janesville.

District No. 2—Includes all territory lying outside the city of Janesville in the north half of Rock county.

District No. 3—Includes all territory lying outside the city of Janesville in the south half of Rock county.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO AND WHAT THEY ARE.

In District No. 1—One handsome diamond ring to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine solid gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. One handsome diamond ring to the gentleman receiving the highest vote, and a fine solid gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

In District No. 2—One beautiful diamond as a first prize, mounted either in a ladies or gentlemen's ring and a valuable solid gold watch (ladies or gentlemen's) as a second prize, to the lady or gentleman receiving the first and second highest vote respectively.

In District No. 3—Same as given in district No. 2.

The Grand Prize. To the winner of a first prize receiving the highest vote in the entire contest will be awarded a trip for self and one companion, expenses paid, by rail to Green Bay and from there by boat to the Soo and return.

Special Prizes to be added next week.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

Candidates in District No. 1 must be members of a church, lodge, club, labor, literary or social organization holding meetings in the city of Janesville.

Candidates in Districts No. 2 and 3 are not required to belong to any organization, may be of either sex, but must be at least 16 years old.

The voting will be by ballots clipped from the Daily Gazette and by voting certificates issued with subscriptions for the Daily Gazette.

Each nomination ballot clipped from the paper will count five votes for the lady or gentleman named thereon when received at the office before the date of expiration given on the ballot.

Certificates for either a lady or gentleman contestant will be issued with receipts for subscriptions as follows:

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Thursday, June 6, 1867.—Ninety in the Shade.—The thermometer indicated 90 in the shade at 1:30 this afternoon.

Almost a Mill.—At the meeting of the Council last night, while some of the bills contracted at the fires during the last winter were under discussion, one of the Aldermen took the ground, that as some of the accounts had been allowed, and he thought at high figures, he should advocate the payment of the whole. In his remarks he made some rather pointed allusions to another member of the Board. When he ceased speaking he left his place and went to the water pitcher, and the Alderman to whom the first speaker had alluded took the floor, and "went for" his opponent. One word led to another until the language became more emphatic than parliamentary. The Mayor, meanwhile, playing his part, but without the effect of quieting the excited gentlemen. At last the Alderman at the water pitcher proposed to settle the matter and his opponent at the same time by throwing both contents and pitcher at him; whereupon the other one instand and ledger in hand shouted out, "Come on ———." At this critical juncture the difficulty was settled by a third Alderman facetiously proposing to knock down the first man who jumped over the table! Our grave Aldermen should remember that "Dogs delight to bark and bite," etc.

Theatre.—Messrs. Murray & Blake's dramatic comedy gave their first entertainment at Lippin's Hall last night, and were greeted with a very enthusiastic audience. Miss Julia Weston, the star of the company, is an actress of very rare ability, pleasing, chaste and refined. Her acting is devoid of all rant—never overstepping the bounds of nature—but still intense. Mr. Murray's Gilmart was a rare specimen of character acting. Mr. Blake is a first class comedian. Mr. Delmar, as an actor, one who is impersonating the scoundrel, does not forget the gentleman. Messrs. Casper and Barrett were fully up to the standard. Miss Howard, although playing a disagreeable character, was fully appreciated, as was Mrs. Murray, and, in fact, it was an excellent entertainment throughout. Tonight—Ten Nights in a Bar Room and The Spectre Bridegroom constitute the bill.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Something for Everybody

Something to interest and amuse the masses, old and young alike of every nationality. This is what is claimed for that grand old pantomime production, "Humpty Dumpty," which is to be at the Myers theatre Saturday, June 8, matinee and evening, with a carefully selected cast of well-known entertainers, headed by the greatest of all pantomime clowns and fun-makers, Mr. John McDonald, the original and only. The man who has made millions laugh. One thousand dollars has been offered to any person—Indian included—who can sit through this entertainment without laughing. A bevy of handsome young ladies make up a fine chorus, who will entertain with the very latest in songs and dances. An interesting and beautiful feature being the famous "Buster Brown" chorus, introducing the "Buster Dog," etc. Magnificent scenery and effects make a very dream-picture of each scene. Remember the children enjoy this play, take them and let them have a good laugh. It's better than medicine.

MUSIC'S CHARMS
ENTICED CROWDSDE LOSS SMITH AND HIS CHORUS
ATTRACT MANY TO RINK.

LARGE AUDIENCE AT REVIVAL

Rev. Ullom Gives Another Telling Sermon—Work of Attracting the Crowds to the Meetings Prosper.

Early last evening the sounds of gospel singing at the Rink drew a large attendance from the streets to the revival meeting. Mr. Smith showed himself a real master of instruction as he taught the people to sing new and unfamiliar music. It is becoming evident to all that while Messrs. Ullom and Smith are "advance" men preparing the way for the great revival in the city, they are adepts in the business. They have been here but a few days but they are familiar figures on the street and have given the town a new topic for conversation. Interest increases from day to day and as the people cooperate in work and prayer they have visions of results to be realized later. The theme for Rev. Ullom's discourse last night was "Revival and How to Promote Them." He said two things were necessary: we must learn to talk with God about men, and we must learn to talk with men about God. J. Hudson Taylor talked to God about his work and was enabled to support on the foreign field eleven hundred missionaries without asking for a cent of money. George Muller talked with God about his work and was able to feed and school and clothe two thousand orphan children without asking men for a cent. The great success of "Chinese" Gordon was in his well known habit of prayer. None of the soldiers ever approached the general's tent when the white flag was floating. They knew he was at prayer.

When men have learned the secret of prayer they are ready for the secret of work. Here the preacher told his audience that unless they were ready for the second lesson the revival might as well close. "Bible" Sunday's great meetings were all a result of personal work. Men went out and talked with their neighbors and friends about the advisability of leading a better life. A saloon-keeper saw the great crowds going to Sunday meetings and remarked, "That will kill my business if it keeps up."

The most delicate work was the work of speaking to men about God. The skilled worker should know what to say and how to say it, and yet sometimes the most unexpected and apparently the most ill-timed message goes to the heart. A big overgrown boy wanting to do personal work went to a lawyer and not knowing what else to say asked him if he wished to go to heaven. The lawyer replied that he did not know whether he did or not. Then said the boy: "Go to hell." These words found their way to the worldly man's heart and led to his conversion. Moody and Sankey once went to a Gypsy camp and when a ragged swarthy-skinned boy climbed up into their wagon Mr. Sankey placed his hand upon the little fellow's head and said: "My boy, I hope God will make you a preacher of the gospel." And twenty-five years afterwards Gypsy Smith came across the Atlantic to say "I am that boy." It was a word spoken by Edward Kimball that brought D. L. Moody to a knowledge of the truth. It was a word by Joel Stratton that made John B. Gough the apostle of temperance and total abstinence.

If you have a religion worth propagating you will give it out, and if you are not willing to do personal work it is an evidence that you have "sin in your heart." The saddest thought that ever comes to a man is the thought that he has neglected an opportunity to lead a man to Christ. Henry Clay Trumbull, who was editor of the Sunday School Times, the most successful Sunday school periodical ever published, was brought to Christ by a letter from a friend. On becoming a Christian he began personal work and after a life of the great usefulness—a life which many a man might envy—he says "I have had more joy over the personal work I have done for my Master than over all my books, addresses and editorial work." A young lady dreamed that she died and went to heaven. As she walked the streets of heaven she noticed that all the people were looking at her. She asked her attendant why they were looking at her. He replied: "There are no stars in your crown." She begged that she might return to earth and win souls to Christ that there might be stars in her crown of rejoicing. Then she awoke to find it was only a dream but she said "I have been a church member a long while; now I am going to be a Christian."

BOOM HAS COME AND
REAL ESTATE SOARS

However Indianapolis Concerns Have Landed in the City to Sell Lots to Everyone.

The McCulloch property on Mineral Point avenue has been secured by the firm of Grover and Layman of Indianapolis, who are plating it into lots. The surveying of the property was completed several days ago and the work of grading the new streets in the addition is now being rapidly pushed to an end. The addition is called Lenox and was accepted by the council at the last regular meeting. A nice feature of the new plat is an alleyway back of every lot. This is something of a novelty in Janesville but is to be recommended on all future plats.

Lenox addition is owned by Arthur M. Fisher, Esq., of this city, who is the legal trustee of the McCullochs, and the lots are to be sold on the remarkably easy terms of one dollar down and then fifty cents a week without interest or taxes.

Mr. J. H. Thieband, who is here managing the sale for his firm, says that in comparison with other towns of the same size, Janesville is far in the lead. He speaks very highly of the progressive up-to-date appearance of the city and says that there is more hustle here to the square inch than in any other town in Wisconsin. The new North-Western roundhouse and the new automobile factory are evidence of this and other new industries are looking this way. Janesville is well located to become one of the leading towns in the state and the prospects were never brighter than at present.

The traction line to Madison and contemplated new railroad to increase freight facilities will, fairly make Janesville boom and real estate investment in city property can not be other than profitable.

EX-POLICE CAPTAIN
HILL'S HOME ROBBED

Burglar Got Away with Jewelry and Money Amounting to $500 While Mr. Hill Was Absent on Sunday.

Sheriff Fisher returned last night from the farm of Capt. C. R. Hill near Milton Junction, whither he was called by the report that the place had been burglarized Sunday evening and a diamond ring valued at $200, ruby and opal rings and some cash amounting in all to about $500, carried away. Mr. Hill, who was police captain in Minneapolis during the administration of Mayor Ames, was not at home at the time the robbery occurred. Some good working clues were found on the premises and the prospects that the thief will be brought to justice are excellent.

BOUGHT 35 ACRES
TO PLAT AND SELL

Mitchell Property Between Pleasant St. and Mineral Point Ave. Purchased from J. M. Bostwick & Sons.

Bunn & Son of Peoria, Ill., dealers in real estate, have purchased from J. M. Bostwick & Sons the first ward property known as the Mitchell estate and will plat it and place it on the market. The tract contains thirty-five acres, lying between Pleasant street and Mineral Point avenue and bounded on the east by Pine street. The entire piece of property will be cut into city lots and disposed of immediately. While here yesterday Mr. Bunn said that from his personal investigation of the city he believed Janesville was in line for a boom. To his mind the geographical location is ideal, railway connections, steam and electric, are excellent and there is nothing to hinder a rapid and healthy growth during the next few years or decades.

Document Drawn in 1872 by S. J. Todd for John Jackson of the Town of Beloit.

Attorney J. B. Dow of Beloit has filed in the probate court a will drawn up in 1872 for the late John Jackson of the town of Beloit. The will was drawn up by Hon. S. J. Todd in September of that year and the will makes Mrs. Johnson, the widow the sole legatee.

Siamese Object to Walking.

The Siamese, above all nations in the world, hate to walk; no such mode of progression is tolerated by a Siamese if he or she can by any means ride. A Venetian gondolier will walk sometimes; even a Hollander will ride on his rough cart; but a Bangkok man—not if he can help it. His family boat for him.—Windsor Magazine.

To Stop Piles Try This.

Piles get instant relief when Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment is applied. It's a Pile Cure, remember, and it is good for nothing else whatever except piles. General Ointments, for many uses, can't possibly cure piles. A pile ointment must be specific. Every aim of its maker must be directed specifically toward piles alone. Says Dr. Shoop, "I make three valuable ointments, and yet one—Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment—will bring relief to pile sufferers." Even then, in old chronic cases, originating because of a torpid liver, with biliousness, I prescribe Mr. Dr. Shoop's Restorative Intercially while using Magic Ointment locally or externally. Keep in mind this fact, please, that the large blood vessels of the liver originate in the walls of the rectum, where piles arise. Obstruct these vessels in the liver and piles instantly appear. Dr. Shoop's Restorative corrects stomach and liver sluggishness, hence its value as an aid to Magic Ointment in the treatment of obstinate cases of piles. None genuine without Dr. Shoop's name on the package. Sold at 50 cents by BADGER DRUG CO.

BREWERY CASES ADJOURNED

Squad of Six Picked Guilty to Drunkenness and All Went to the County Jail for Short Terms.

Pulpit and bar and executive departments of the state, county, and city, were well represented in municipal court this morning. District Attorney J. L. Fisher and Deputy Warden Peter Draht were on hand to prosecute an offender against the game laws City Attorney H. L. Maxwell and Atty. M. O. Mout and E. H. Ryan to take up the question of the city's right to restrain the brewers from disposing of their wares in "original packages" on the Sabbath; City Marshal Appleby to complain against a delegation of six who had been picked up in a state of intoxication; and Rev. J. W. Laughlin was on hand as a spectator of the proceedings.

Brewery Case Adjourned.

The attorneys representing F. P. and W. J. Croak and W. M. Bnub and W. C. Hart of the two brewing concerns charged with violating the city ordinance on Sunday, May 26, asked for a continuance of their case until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and the city attorney consented. They will withdraw their plea of "not guilty" and enter a motion to squash the complaint, on the grounds that the city exceeded its authority in passing any measure forbidding Sunday traffic in "original packages" on the part of the brewers.

Charged With Drunkenness

An imposing array of intemperate gentlemen, escorted by the city marshal and Officer Champion, was marched and seated in a semi-circle just within the rail. Frank Grogan said that though raised in Janesville he had been working in the Fairbanks-Morse plant in Beloit of late years. He pleaded guilty and was given the alternative of paying a fine and costs of $4.10 or spending 7 days in jail. The same sentence was meted out to Ernest Beyers, Frank ("Tinker") Smith called attention to his good behavior for a considerable period and stated that he was on his way to do some painting at Oconomowoc when overtaken by the demon, Drink. $3.10 or 5 days was his sentence. John Olson said that he belonged in Clinton; $2.10 or 4 days was the court's decree. Olaf Erickson said that he worked on a farm just this side of Brodhead; that he had been in Janesville only on one or two former occasions during his lifetime; that fatigue and an unquenchable thirst produced by a long journey had caused him to stray from the path of rectitude and sobriety. Judge Fifield thought that "this time" $2.10 or 4 days would square things with the State. Harry Ashcraft was given five days straight. After the sentences had been meted out City Marshal Appleby addressed a query to the semi-circle: "You can't any of you pay your fines? No, there isn't a half dollar in the whole bunch." Mr. Erickson fumbled his watch, intimating that it might be pawned, but the proposed expedient proved of no avail.

August Buggs' Infant Fish.

Very early this morning August W. Buggs borrowed a split-bamboo rod and reel from a friend and hid himself to the banks of the Rock river below the Monterey dam. Little did he suspect that Deputy Game Warden Peter Draht had been lurking in the dew-smitten bushes, up to his knees in ooze and water, since 2 a. m. Still, Mr. Buggs' act of putting a live eight ounce wall-eyed pike into his pocket instead of throwing it back into the drink, was hardly the result of forethought and deliberate intent. As he explained afterwards in court to a sympathetic judge and audience: "The fishing was no good and when I finally landed this little fellow I just thought that I'd keep him." It is only human to grasp at the consolation prize when high hopes have gone a glimmering, even if it can only serve as food for the chickens, but unfortunately Mr. Buggs appears to have erred previously in retaining a still smaller member of the wall-eyed family for bait. The game warden certified in court that he found in the minnow-pail the tail of a pike, that wouldn't have tipped the beam at 2 ounces. At the same time the officer recommended that the heavy fine of $25 be remitted as a last bid of leniency to those with regard to whom he has recently been receiving scores of complaints. "The state has to plant these fish every year at a great expense to the taxpayers," said the warden. "This is the last time I shall ever ask to have a fine suspended. Whether a man takes out one or a dozen pike under one pound weight and keeps them, hereafter, he will have to pay the penalty. Black-bass must not be under eight inches in length and catfish must be at least 2 pounds. It's the law and I've got to enforce it."

"Do you think that if I suspend the minimum fine of $25 on payment of costs you can refrain from illegal fishing in the future?" asked the court. "I think it will end my fishing entirely," was the mournful reply of Mr. Buggs.

The latter had not exactly caught the drift of the suspension of fine clause and started to pay the $25 along with the $2.85 costs. When he found that the big amount was not to be exacted he doubtless altered his harsh resolution to give up the pastime forever. But he did not buy back at the price of $1 stipulated by Warden Draht, the confiscated fish rod, which is now the property of the state.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

ONE of his three visitors Duncombe recognized immediately. It was M. Louis. Of the other two, one was a Frenchman, a somewhat somber looking person in a black beard and gold rimmed eyeglasses, the other an unmistakably an Englishman of the lower middle class. His broad shoulders and somewhat stiff bearing seemed to suggest some sort of drill. Looking them over Duncombe found himself instinctively wondering whether the personal strength of these two, which was obvious, might become a factor in the coming interview.

The baron naturally was spokesman. He bowed very gravely to Duncombe, and did not offer his hand.

"I must apologize, Sir George," he said, "for disturbing you at such an inopportune hour. Our business, however, made it necessary for us to reach you with as little delay as possible."

"Perhaps you will be good enough to explain," Duncombe answered, "what that business is."

The baron raised his hands with a little protesting gesture.

"I regret to tell you, Sir George," he announced, "that it is of a most unpleasant nature. I could wish that its execution had fallen into other hands. My companions are M. Ridalle of the French detective service, and our other friend here, whom I do not know, is a constable from the Norwich police court. My own connections with the police service of my country you have already, without doubt, surmised."

"Go on," Duncombe said.

"I regret to say," M. Louis continued, "that my friends here are in charge of a warrant for your arrest. You will find them possessed of all the legal documents, French and English. We shall have to ask you to come to Norwich with us tonight."

"Arrest!" Duncombe repeated. "On what charge?"

"An extremely serious one," the baron answered gravely. "The charge of murder."

Duncombe stared at him in amazement.

"Murder?" he repeated. "What rubbish!"

"The murder of Mlle. de Mermillon in her lodging on the night of the 7th of June last," the baron said gravely. "Please do not make any remarks before these men. The evidence against you is already sufficiently strong."

Duncombe laughed derisively.

"What sort of a puppet show is this?" he exclaimed. "You know as well as any man living how that poor girl came to her end. This is a cover for something else, of course. What do you want of me? Let's get it at it without wasting time."

"What we want of you is, I am afraid, only too simple," the baron answered, shrugging his shoulders. "We must ask you to accompany us at once to Norwich castle. You will have to appear before the magistrates in the morning, when they will sign the extradition warrant. Our friend here, M. Ridalle, will then take charge of you. Perhaps you would like to look through the documents. You will find them all in perfect order."

Duncombe mechanically glanced through the French and English papers which were spread out before him. They had certainly a most uncomfortable appearance of being genuine. He began to feel a little bewildered.

"You mean to say that you have come here to arrest me on this charge? That you want me to go away with you tonight?" he asked.

"It is not a matter of wanting you to come," the baron answered coldly. "It is a matter of necessity."

Duncombe moved toward the fireplace.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the hideous questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispels all the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of known composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

"Will you allow me the privilege of a few moments' conversation with you in private?" he said to the baron. "Your companions will perhaps excuse you for a moment."

The baron followed without remark. They stood facing one another upon the hearth rug. Duncombe leaned one elbow upon the mantelpiece and turned toward his companion.

"Look here," he said, "those papers seem genuine enough; and if you insist upon it I will go with you to Norwich. I shall take care not to let you out of my sight, and if when we get there I find that it is any part of one of your confounded conspiracies you will find that the penalties for this sort of thing in England are pretty severe. However, no doubt you are well aware of that. The question is this: What do you really want from me?"

M. Louis, who had lit a cigarette, withdrew it from his mouth and examined the lighted end for a moment in silence.

"The documents," he said, "are genuine. You are arraigned in perfectly legal fashion. Upon the affidavits there the magistrates must grant the extradition warrant without hesitation. We have nothing to fear in that direction. The evidence is remarkably convincing."

"Police concocted evidence," Duncombe remarked; "would necessarily be so. I admit that you hold a strong card against me. I don't believe, however, that you have gone to all this trouble without some ulterior motive. What is it? What can I offer you in exchange for these documents?"

M. Louis smiled.

"You are a man of common sense, Sir George," he said. "I will speak to you without reserve. It is possible that you might be able to offer the government department of my country to which I am attached an inducement to interest themselves in your behalf. Mind, I am not sure, but if my information is correct there is certainly a possibility."

"The government department of your country to which you are attached," Duncombe repeated thoughtfully. "Let me understand you. You mean the secret service police?"

M. Louis glanced a little nervously over his shoulder.

"Never mind what I mean, Sir George," he said quickly. "There are things which we do not speak of openly. This much is sufficient. I represent a power which can influence and direct even the criminal courts of justice of France."

"What bribe have I to offer you?" Duncombe asked. "Information? You know more than I do. I am afraid you have been misled."

"I think not," M. Louis said quickly. "I will tell you what we want. A paper was left in your charge by Miss Phyllis Poynton at the time she was visiting at Runtin House."

"What of it?" Duncombe asked.

The Frenchman's face was suddenly tense with excitement. He recovered himself almost at once, but his voice shook, and a new earnestness found its way into his manner.

"Miss Poynton and her brother are with us," he said. "It is we who have been their benefactors. You know a good deal of their peculiar circumstances. A sudden need has arisen for the production of that paper within twenty-four hours. Give it to me now, and I will run the greatest risk I have ever run in my career. I will tear those warrants through."

"Have you any authority from Miss Poynton?" Duncombe asked.

"There was no time to procure it," M. Louis explained. "Events march rapidly today. To be effective that paper must be in Paris tomorrow. The necessity for its production arose only a few hours ago."

"You ask me, then," Duncombe said slowly, "to hand over to you a paper which was placed in my charge by Miss Poynton?"

"In effect—yes!"

"I cannot do it!"

M. Louis shrugged his shoulders.

"I do not insist," he remarked. "I may be permitted to remind you, however, that I have offered a great price."

"Perhaps!" Duncombe answered quietly.

M. Louis turned to his assistants.

"Sir George Duncombe will accompany us," he said. "I can give you ten minutes, Sir George," he added, "in case you care to change your clothes."

"And supposing I refuse to come?" Duncombe asked.

M. Louis smiled.

"You would scarcely be so foolish," he remarked. "In that case I should send the policeman here to the nearest station with the warrants and a demand for help. Our documents are in perfect order and our case complete. You would scarcely be so foolish, I think, as to set yourself in direct opposition to the law."

Duncombe was silent for several moments. Then he rang the bell. M. Louis looked at him inquiringly, but before he could frame a question the butler was in the room.

"Pack my things for a week," Duncombe ordered. "I am going away tonight."

The man bowed and withdrew. M. Louis merely shrugged his shoulders.

"A week!" he remarked. "You will be fortunate if you ever see your home again. Come, Sir George, be reasonable. I give you my word of honor that it is altogether to the interest of Miss Poynton that these papers be immediately produced. If she were here, she would place them in my hands without a moment's hesitation."

"Possibly," Duncombe answered. "Suppositions, however, do not interest me. I undertook the charge of what she gave me, and I shall fulfill my trust."

M. Louis turned to the policeman. "Officer," he said, "this is Sir George Duncombe. Do your duty."

The man stepped forward and laid his hand upon Sir George's shoulder.

"Very sorry, sir," he said. "I am forced to arrest you on this warrant for the murder of Florence Mermillon on the night of the 7th of June. You will be brought before the magistrates at Norwich tomorrow."

Duncombe waved his hand toward the sideboard.

"If you gentlemen," he remarked, "would care for a little refreshment before you start?"

"It is against the rules, sir, thank you," the man answered. "I should be glad to get away as soon as possible."

Duncombe filled both his pockets with cigars and cigarettes. Then he turned toward the door.

"I am quite ready," he said.

They followed him out. There was a few minutes' delay waiting for Duncombe's bag.

"Your address, Sir George?" Groves inquired as he brought it down.

"A little doubtful," Duncombe answered; "I will wire."

In front, please, Sir George," M. Louis insisted.

So they drove off, Duncombe in the front seat, the other three behind. The car gathered speed rapidly. In less than an hour they were half way to Norwich. Then suddenly the driver took a sharp corner and turned down a long, desolate lane.

"You're off the main road," Duncombe explained. "You should have kept straight on for Norwich."

The man took no notice. He even increased his speed. Duncombe was in the act of turning round when he felt the sudden swish of a wet cloth upon his face. He tried to break away, but he was held from behind as in a vise. Then his head fell back, and he remembered no more.

STILL BELIEVE IN FAIRIES.

Irishmen Claim to Have Seen the "Little People."

Here is a modern fairy story from Ireland: "One day about 20 years ago," writes a correspondent, "I was fishing from a boat on Lough Derg. I inquired of my boatmen if they had ever seen fairies. At first, fearing to be laughed at, they scouted the idea, but one of them told the following: On a Sunday he was returning after mass, and stood with a friend, named Sullivan, on the bridge of Killaloe. Looking toward a potato field on the slope of the rising ground to the east of the town, a field which he was able to point out from the boat, he saw issuing from the liss a troop of 'little people,' one being distinctly taller than the rest. At first they seemed rather blurred, then took distinct shapes and began to play the national game of hurley among the bare potato rigs. He called Sullivan's attention to them, but for some time his friend could not see them, then said he could, and they watched the game together for a time. Then the sun went in, and the fairies, moving toward the liss, as if returning to it, vanished. Lisses are rough pieces, sometimes hillocks, sometimes depressions, often bushy, but never cultivated. I have been told they are left as doorways for the fairies when visiting the earth's surface."

WORSE EVERY YEAR

Plenty of Janesville Readers Have the Same Experience.

Don't neglect an aching back. It will get worse every year. Backache is really kidney ache. To cure the back you must cure the kidneys.

If you don't, other kidney ills follow—Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease.

A Janesville citizen tells you how—the cure is easy:

A Janesville citizen tell of a friend, Thomas Burgess, millwright of 15 Park Ave., Janesville, Wis., makes the following statement concerning Doan's Kidney Pills:

"I had a pain in my back for nearly ten years. A dull ache and gone-out feeling often completely laid me up. It was very bad at night, and I have awakened from a sound sleep feeling as if a ton weight was lying on my back, and for a few moments I would be afraid to move for fear of sharp shooting pains which usually struck me at such times and went to the very quick. I had to use my hands and arms to turn over in bed; my back was weak. The urine was in very bad shape also, and gave me trouble at night as I had to get up a number of times to pass it. There was considerable sediment and the secretions were discolored. I had used a number of remedies at different times without apparent benefit. I at last decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Peoples' Drug Company, and soon after I began to use them I began to improve. In a few days the backache left me and as I continued the treatment the irregularities of the secretions were corrected and I have enjoyed better health ever since, having had no return of any form of kidney trouble."

Music from Kettle Drums.

The musicians of Hindostan play very dexterously on a very small pair of kettle drums, called toublaks, which are fastened before them by lengths of cloth wound several times around the body. They are beaten with the fingers. Single drums, beaten with two sticks of hard wood, are sometimes used to frighten away tigers.

Do you realize that you are throwing away every week more than enough to buy a couple of these lots? Start today and buy one or two of these lots; you will never miss the money and will leave your savings where they are safe and sure. Special discount for cash.

Pleasant View Addition

This is the most beautiful addition ever laid out in the city, within easy walking distance of the business portion, and only one block from Grant school; cement sidewalks all the way to this addition and in front of all lots on Pleasant street. Janesville is now assured a new Interurban, several new factories, and the Northwestern R. R. yards, which is sure to increase the value of property,—so buy now while you can buy right and profit by the advance. Watch Janesville grow. You cannot afford to miss this opportunity. Come out and see for yourself.

DON'T PUT IT OFF!

But buy now while you can at such low prices and on such easy terms. Did you ever stop to think that you are saving no more at your present salary than you did when you were getting half as much? Don't you think it would be good business judgment to put your money in a safe, sure and sound real estate investment, when you can do it on fifty cents or a dollar a week?

STOP PAYING RENT And Own Your Own Home.

To own Real Estate is the best object a saving man can have. It is an incentive to save. Real Estate is a bank that can never fail. If you are in middle life you have already paid enough rent to have owned several good homes. Nothing is more worthless than a bunch of old rent receipts. If you are a young man avoid rent and become your own landlord. Nothing makes one more independent than to be his own landlord.

SEE THESE LOTS AND BUY NOW

Remember you make all weekly payments to Bower City Bank. Come early and get a choice. Every lot will bear a card with price so you will know just what you get. Pleasant View Addition is a short walk west on Pleasant, Bluff or Ravine streets.
